

Panel 1: Opening Moment

Narration: Arun finds an old pocket watch buried beneath a stone in an...

Scene: Arun begins the story in Ancient Forest and Forgotten Kingdom, with the events described by this idea: Arun finds an old pocket watch buried beneath a stone in an ancient forest. When he turns the hands backward, the entire forest transforms into a forgotten kingdom. He sees a mysterious boy who looks exactly like him, holding the same watch. Before Arun can speak to him, the kingdom begins disappearing. Arun must discover why the watch brought him there before he is trapped in the past forever.

Panel 2: The Central Event

Narration: Arun finds an old pocket watch buried beneath a stone in an...

Scene: Still in Ancient Forest and Forgotten Kingdom, Arun encounters the central event described by this idea: Arun finds an old pocket watch buried beneath a stone in an ancient forest. When he turns the hands backward, the entire forest transforms into a forgotten kingdom. He sees a mysterious boy who looks exactly like him, holding the same watch. Before Arun can speak to him, the kingdom begins disappearing. Arun must discover why the watch brought him there before he is trapped in the past forever.

Panel 3: A Response

Narration: Arun finds an old pocket watch buried beneath a stone in an...

Scene: Still in Ancient Forest and Forgotten Kingdom, Arun responds to the same story event: Arun finds an old pocket watch buried beneath a stone in an ancient forest. When he turns the hands backward, the entire forest transforms into a forgotten kingdom. He sees a mysterious boy who looks exactly like him, holding the same watch. Before Arun can speak to him, the kingdom begins disappearing. Arun must discover why the watch brought him there before he is trapped in the past forever.

Panel 4: The Key Moment

Narration: Arun finds an old pocket watch buried beneath a stone in an...

Scene: Still in Ancient Forest and Forgotten Kingdom, Arun reaches the key moment of that same event: Arun finds an old pocket watch buried beneath a stone in an ancient forest. When he turns the hands backward, the entire forest transforms into a forgotten kingdom. He sees a mysterious boy who looks exactly like him, holding the same watch. Before Arun can speak to him, the kingdom begins disappearing. Arun must discover why the watch brought him there before he is trapped in the past forever.

Panel 5: The Outcome

Narration: Arun finds an old pocket watch buried beneath a stone in an...

Scene: Still in Ancient Forest and Forgotten Kingdom, Arun sees the immediate outcome of that same event: Arun finds an old pocket watch buried beneath a stone in an ancient forest. When he turns the hands backward, the entire forest transforms into a forgotten kingdom. He sees a mysterious boy who looks exactly like him, holding the same watch. Before Arun can speak to him, the kingdom begins disappearing. Arun must discover why the watch brought him there before he is trapped in the past forever.